

THE ASYLUM SQUABBLE.

Dr. Dawson has been in charge of the Asylum for the past eight months and so far as we know, with the exception of a few mistakes, has managed the Asylum in as good a manner as any living man could have done. For the mistakes which have been made the Commissioners are almost as much to blame as the Superintendent. If the affairs of the institution are not being conducted in a proper manner the Commissioners can quickly effect a change, and we have no doubt that Supt. Dawson will only too gladly comply with any orders or suggestions of the Board. Repeated refusals would certainly result in his dismissal. If any person can show that the Asylum affairs have not been properly conducted that person should make complaint, and if the wrong is not righted, then public opinion will demand a change. The Commissioners can regulate everything by performing their duty, and if Supt. Dawson refuses to carry out the reforms necessary, he ought to be removed. But it is not the fair or decent thing for the Board to attempt to remove him upon frivolous accusations, or to satisfy political or personal friends. The Board had better make haste slowly in this matter.

THE CIVIL PRACTICE ACT.

Amendments Made by the Late Legislature

A hurried examination of the list of enrolled bills enables the Index to find only four new statutes amendatory of the Practice Act and of general application. The JOURNAL appends here the sections as amended for the information of the Bar:

Section 31 is amended so as to read as follows:

Section 31. The order shall direct the publication to be made in a newspaper to be designated by the Court or Judge thereof, as one most likely to give notice to the person to be served for a period of six weeks, and at least once a week during said time. In case of publication where the residence of a non-resident, or absent defendant is known, the Court or Judge shall also direct a copy of the summons and complaint to be deposited in the postoffice, directed to the person to be served, at his place of residence. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the summons and complaint out of the State shall be equivalent to publication and deposit in the postoffice. The service of summons shall be deemed complete in cases of publication at the expiration of six weeks from the first publication, and in cases where a deposit of a copy of the summons and complaint in the postoffice is also required, at the expiration of six weeks from such deposit. In actions upon contracts for the direct payment of money, evidenced by written instrument, the Court may, instead of ordering publication, appoint an Attorney to appear and answer for the non-resident, absent, or concealed defendant and conduct the proceedings on his part. This section shall apply to proceedings had in Justice's Courts.

Section 245 of said Act as amended March 3d, 1881, is amended so as to read as follows:

Section 245. The Judge or referee may order any property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution, in the hands of such debtor, or any other person, or due to the judgment debtor, to be applied toward the satisfaction of the judgment; except that the earnings of the debtor, not exceeding fifty dollars, for his personal services at any time within thirty days next preceding the order, shall not be so applied, when it shall be made to appear by the debtor's affidavit or otherwise, that such earnings are necessary for his own support, or the use of a family supported wholly or partly by his labor.

Section 2. All Acts and parts of Acts in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

Section 517 is amended so as to read as follows:

Section 517. The time mentioned in the summons for the appearance of the defendant, and the time of service shall be as follows: First, When the summons shall be accompanied with an order to arrest the defendant, it shall be returnable immediately. Second, When the defendant is a non-resident of the township or city, or when the plaintiff is a non-resident, it shall be returnable not more than two days from its date, and shall be served at least one day before the time for appearance, except in cases where it is to be served by publication, or out of the State, or by posting notices thereof, when it shall be made returnable not less than six weeks after the date of its issuance. Third, In all other cases it shall be returnable in not less than two nor more than ten days after its date, and shall be served at least two days before the time for appearance, provided, that in cases where an action is brought in an adjoining township because there is no Justice in the proper township, it shall be returnable in not less than five nor more than ten days after its date.

Section 404 is amended so as to read as follows:

Section 404. An affidavit taken in another State, or in a Territory of the United States, to be used in this State, shall be taken before a Commissioner appointed by the Governor of this State to take affidavits and depositions in such other State or Territory, or before any Notary Public or Judge of a Court of Record having a seal.

THE TARIFF.

Speech of Hon. John P. Jones, of Nevada,

In the Senate of the United States, Monday, Feb'y 19, 1883,

On the Bill (R. H. 5538) to Reduce Internal Revenue Taxation.

I am in favor of protection because it tends to the elevation of the people, the improvement of machinery, and the ultimate cheapening of products, whereas free trade tends to cheapen the wages rather than the products of labor. Protection cheapens products, while free trade cheapens producers.

I am in favor of the high protective duties which have existed since the beginning of the civil war, because they have stood the best test, that of experience. At no time in our history has the country been so prosperous as it is to-day, and its labor and capital have as a whole never been before so actively and profitably employed. This is proved by the unprecedented immigration of laborers from Europe, and by the extraordinarily rapid accumulation of wealth in all sections.

I am in favor of the protective policy because it sustains the country with all the pillars, buttresses, and girders of civilization, promotes the arts and sciences, and tends to build up such numerous cities, towns and centers of population as will bring schools, colleges, libraries, exhibitions of art, and all the social enjoyments within the easy reach of the people in all localities.

I am in favor of the protective policy, because, instead of leaving the several sections of the country to be each devoted to the production of some single raw material or class of raw materials, and to rely for the greater part of what they consume upon exchanges with foreign nations, it will finally carry nearly all the industries into every section, so that the bulk of the exchanges of each may be made within itself, and therefore to the best advantage, and by transactions between producers and consumers with the smallest possible number of intermediaries.

I am in favor of the protective system, because it is specially recommended to this country by the greatness of its area, which is equal to that of all Europe, and includes all the habitable latitudes except the intertropical, and every conceivable resource of mines, forests, fisheries, and soils, thus exempting us from any real necessity of encountering the risks, entanglements, fluctuations, and unavoidable costs of foreign trade.

In the discussions upon this bill it has been assumed in many quarters that it is a sufficient reason for lowering or repealing the duty upon any article that it is an article of universal consumption, and that consequently the public interest demands that it should be cheapened in its money price. To deal with a protective system in that way is to destroy it in detail, because in respect to every given article the consumers are always more numerous than the producers, and a majority will be sure to be against a tariff, item by item, until the whole of it is overthrown. It is necessary to protect all the articles coming within the proper rule of protection. To suppose that anything is to be gained by cheapening the money price of particular articles, is to overlook the fact that the purchasing power of the people will decline with any cheapening of prices which is brought about by diminishing the sum of home industries. If it is proper, as it is sometimes said to be, to cheapen articles of prime necessity by importations it is equally proper to cheapen the prices of all articles by the same method and for the same reasons. The theory of protection is, that whatever may be its effect upon money prices it increases the purchasing power of the people by promoting all industries in a just proportion as between themselves, so that they mutually support and sustain each other.

If the rule is sound that everything should be produced at home which can be produced here with as small an amount of physical and mental force as is necessary to produce it elsewhere, the only thing to be considered in fixing the rate of a duty is the keeping out of the foreign article. It is conclusive evidence that tariff duties have not been placed high enough on any article which comes within the rule, so long as the importation continues. No duty should be lowered as long as the foreign article is being imported, but on the contrary the duty should be raised until it becomes unprofitable to bring it in, care being taken not to advance the duties too rapidly nor until the home production has become sufficiently developed to supply the wants of the country.

Prohibitive duties may be and are denounced as "a Chinese wall" around the country, but it is just such a wall as we want—broad enough, high enough, and strong enough to keep for our own enjoyment the prosperity and scale of comfort which properly belong to our natural and acquired resources, and to shut out the poverty and the products of the scanty, pinching wages of less favored countries.

It is wholly immaterial whether money prices inside of this wall are high or low. It is sufficient to know that they will be such prices as will result from perfectly free and unrestricted trade between citizens of our own country and from the free exchanges of the product of each industry for the products of all other industries under circumstances which exclude monopoly or special privilege. It is sufficient to know that they will be such prices as will arise from an equalization of profits and wages and opportunities, as between our own people in all their varied pursuits, which insures the only species of competition which is either fair or enduring—the competition between those who are on the same plane as to the scale of comforts to which they are accustomed and of taxes to which they are subjected.

And, finally, it is sufficient to know that they will be such prices as will arise from the highest attainable civilization and from the greatest possible advancement of the arts and sciences and from the just distribution of population and industry. Or, in other words, they will be such prices as arise from the most complete control which man can obtain over the hidden forces of nature, through which more, incomparably more than by the mere exertion of human muscle, are the objects of human desire cheapened and riches multiplied. Of the pastoral condition, which was that of the primitive ages of the race, the poets have given us pleasing pictures. Nevertheless, it is through the diversification of industries and aggregations of population, that the highest civilization is attainable, and that man is most advanced morally, socially, and intellectually, as well as in material wealth. If his vices are not extirpated they become less gross and his selfishness loses some of its repulsive features. Arochian simplicity is an attractive phrase, but what is described as the state of nature, instead of being the condition in which it is natural for man to remain, is a condition from which all his highest and best aspirations impel him to emerge.

The movement of the race in the path of civilization is not a retrograde but a forward movement. This country should tread in that path with a firm and unflinching step, until it becomes what its geographical position, its natural resources, and the genius of its people fit it to be, the central and chief seat of all the sciences, arts and industries which multiply the enjoyments, enlarge the capacities and cultivate the moral and social sentiments of man.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-swft-lyr

"First a cough, carried me off, and then a coffin they carried me in!" This will not be your epitaph if you take your cough and Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" in time. It is specific for weak lungs, spitting of blood, night-sweats, and the early stages of consumption. By all druggists.

The Lumberman's Paradise.

A correspondent of the Truckee Republican in discussing the proposition as to the lumber resources of the Truckee basin, which some have asserted are being rapidly exhausted, goes into a detailed statement as to what has been done in cutting down the pine forests and what source of supply is yet remaining, concludes as follows: To take the Truckee basin as a whole, there is at the present time not less than 5,000,000 feet of saw-lumber remaining. This will afford 50,000,000 a year for 100 years. These facts are arrived at by actual exploration and observation. It is really the fact to-day that many do not see a good investment in this timber, as there is so much of it that it seems a long time before it all can be brought into market. There is not another region in the mountains where the facilities are so good, and where timber can be brought to the railroad so easy. In fact, the Truckee basin is a lumberman's paradise.

Railroad to be Built.

Hon. George W. Baker stated to a Eureka Sentinel representative a few days ago in Carson that he had just received a letter from Superintendent Goss, of the Eureka & Colorado River Railroad, in which he said that the work on the road would be vigorously resumed this Spring, with a force of 2,000 men, and all the horses and wagons, etc., of a full equipment. He said that the only delay would be a temporary one, caused by the detention of the force in finishing up and laying the rails on 19 miles of the road between Salt Lake and Provo. When this is finished the whole force will be set to work on the E. & C. R. R., starting from the Eastern end and moving as rapidly as possible en route to Cherry Creek.

San Francisco Meat Market.

Beef is firm at quotations, with a steady demand. Mutton is abundant and cheaper than any class of meat in the market. Pork is in light supply, and prices have an advancing tendency. Following are rates for whole carcasses from slaughterers to dealers:

Beef—First grade, 7 1/4 @ 8c; second grade, 6 1/2 @ 7c; third grade, 5 @ 5 1/2 c. Lamb—Spring, 12 1/2 @ 15c. Mutton—5 @ 5 1/2 c. for Ewes, and 5 1/2 @ 6c for Wethers, according to quality.

Veal—Large calves, 8 @ 9c; small ones, 7 @ 9c. Pork—Live hogs, 7 @ 7 1/2 c for hard, and 5 1/2 c to 6 1/2 c for soft; dressed do, 8 @ 9 1/2 c. for hard grain hogs.

Fatal Stabbing Affray.

News has been received of an affray at the St. Nicholas Hotel, Paradise Valley, on Sunday last, between the white waiter, Thos. McLaughlin, and the Chinese cook, in which the waiter cut one of the cooks with a cheese knife, inflicting wounds which proved fatal. One cut was across the Chinaman's forehead and face, and another in the right side. The latter was five inches long and proportionately deep, and caused the death of the Chinaman. McLaughlin was arrested.

Wool.

The San Francisco Bulletin says the Spring clip will soon be coming forward, when livelier times may be expected. We quote Fall,

San Joaquin and coast, 10 @ 11c; San Joaquin and coast lamb, good 9 @ 11c; Northern Fall, free 15 @ 18c; Northern Fall, defective 11 @ 14c; Northern Fall, lamb 10 @ 17c; Free Mountain 11 @ 16c; Eastern Oregon 10 @ 22c; Valley Oregon 20 @ 26c.

We quote Spring:

California, 10 @ 14c.

Now is the Time.

Messrs. Levy & Bro. are offering some excellent bargains in dry goods. They have just received a new line of goods which are exceedingly attractive and in season. This is the season for ladies to prepare their spring and summer suits. Look in at Levys' and see how much can be purchased for a little money.

New Trial Granted.

Judge Rising has granted a new trial in the McKelvey-Crockett case. The case will now go to the Supreme Court, and Attorney Cain will perfect his papers in time for the April term. Judge Rising heard the motion for a new trial, Judge Boardman being disqualified.

The Cattle Shipping Business.

The Winnemucca Silver State says: The season for shipping beef cattle from this station to San Francisco is drawing to a close. Stock men say there is yet from 4,000 to 5,000 head of beefs to be shipped from this county, and that will end the business until next Summer. The shipments west during the Winter have been nearly as heavy as in 1881-2, but while several hundred head of fat cattle were shipped East a year ago, not a car-load has been sent in that direction during the past winter. Todhunter, Hardin, Wallis and Koehrsperger have over 2,000 head to ship from this station, and there are several hundred head to be shipped from Iron Point and Lovelock.

Gray hairs often cause annoyance, which Parker's Hair Balsam prevents by restoring the youthful color.

When They Go Into Effect.

The reduction of the tobacco tax, provided for in the internal revenue clause of the Tariff bill, goes into effect May 1st. The abolition of taxes on the capital and deposits of banks, bankers and National Banking Association takes effect immediately; on bank checks, drafts, watches, perfumery, proprietary medicines and the revised duties on imports on and after July 1st next.

Heartily Recommended.

Don't condemn a good thing because you have been deceived by worthless nostrums. Parker's Ginger Tonic has cured many in this section of nervous disorders, and we recommend it heartily to such sufferers.—News.

Fine Job Work.

The JOURNAL job office has just received a large and fine stock of paper, cards, inks, etc., for job printing and is prepared to take orders for every description of work in the printing line. Only skilled workmen are employed in the job room and no inferior work is allowed to leave the office. Compensation prices are charged for every job and satisfaction guaranteed. Call and examine our specimens and leave your orders.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL.

The WEEKLY JOURNAL, published every Saturday, will be furnished to those desiring it at 25c per year in advance. It will contain the local news of the week, a careful summary of the State, Pacific Coast and mining news, together with a variety of miscellaneous and editorial matter, containing more reading than any weekly paper ever published in the county. Those desiring to subscribe for the WEEKLY JOURNAL will please call at the publication office.

Advertising Medium.

The advertising columns of the JOURNAL afford an excellent opportunity to our readers to study out where purchases of all kinds can be made on the most advantageous terms. All classes of goods can there be found advertised from a suit of clothes or nice silk dress to the daintiest ornament in the jewelry line. The JOURNAL reaches nearly every family as well as business house in the county, and, therefore, advertisers seek its columns that the public may know what they have for sale.
